Guide to Immunizations

Giving birth to a healthy baby is one thing; raising a healthy child is quite another... but vaccinations can help.

That's why we created The What to Expect Guide to Immunizations—a campaign to help educate parents on the power of vaccinations to protect their children from preventable illnesses.

Developed with support from our sponsor GlaxoSmithKline, our immunization guide thoroughly addresses information parents want to know surrounding their child's vaccination needs, including:

- Recommended shot schedule
- Answers to questions about a vaccine's safety, effectiveness and importance
- Tips on how to prepare children for the needles coming their way

There's also an Immunization Visit Planner that helps parents keep track of which shots their child receives at each vaccine visit, plus a place to jot down a pediatrician's instructions and advice.
